BEEF-TRUST CASE ARGUED IN COURT

Swift's Attorney Strongly Asserts Law Has Not Been Violated.

CHARGES NOT SPECIFIC.

Interstate Commerce Not Involved Because Absolute Business of Packer Is Confined to Chicago.

Many Petty Robberies Reported to Police During Cool Snap.

The expected increase in petty crimes during the cold weather of the last few days is materializing, as shown by the numerous arrests made by the Police Department. In several instances the arrests following are of persons who are forced to commit illegal destruction and want their victims being unable to furnish actual necessity to life such as coal and groceries.

Mr. Moody had scarcely begun when the court adjourned until Monday.

At a beginning Mr. Miller's presentation of his case was interrupted by Justice Holmes, who said that he held stock in the old Union Stock Yards in Chicago and also in the Kansas City yards and required if they were involved in the case.

Mr. Miller replied that they were not.

essary for maintaining a proper supply of an acceptable article, he said there should be some understanding among the packers.

This was, he said, perfectly legitimate, and the Government itself might properly assume this supervision. The cattle supply was not so regular as the demand, and to this fact Mr. Miller attributed the fluctuations in prices.

When Mr. Miller concluded, Attorney General Moody began. It was held, he said, that the contention that the cattle supply was not regular was not with another. He said, he added, as it may, the purpose of the suit was single and all the separate parts of the bill were directed to the same end, and that part of the provision of the bill was asking for discovery of the books of the packers.

FOREST CONGRESS ADJOURS.

Delegates Hear Last of Addresses at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The importance of public forest lands in mining was the theme of the morning meeting of the concluding sessions of the American Forest Congress.

A. H. Fellows, consulting engineer of the Government Reclamation Service, discussed "The Development of Water-Power as Related to Forest Reserves." He contended that the forest areas should be reserved by the Government and should not be left in the unregulated domain of the United States.

Resolutions were adopted and a number of words read.

Commissioner Richards of the General Land Office, described the Government's plan for the reversion of the forests to the States; Gifford Pinchot, forest chief of the Department of Agriculture, discussed the "Federal Forest Service"; Associate Forester of the Forest Service, and Professor J. L. Rothrock of the Pennsylvania Reservation Commission made an address on forestry work in that State.

The convention then adjourned.

There was a crowd waiting to receive the future Senator, and when he descended from the train, he was greeted with a resounding cheer. The crowd completely surrounded him and accompanied him to the midway, where, after much hand-shaking, he was allowed to enter his carriage and drive home.

CHARGES POLICEMAN'S DEATH TO JOPLIN NORTH END GANG.

CORONER'S JURY NAMES PERSONS IT THINKS RESPONSIBLE FOR SHOOTING CLAUDE BRICE.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Joplin, Mo., Jan. 6.—The coroner's jury in the case of Officer Claude Brice, who was shot and instantly killed in Joplin's famous North End one week ago, returned a verdict placing the responsibility for his death on Ed Dailey, North End bartender; George Rogers, John Franklin, Joe Woodward, Ed Milligan and Jennie Quillan, alias Big Jim.

Dailey, Milligan and Jennie Quillan are under arrest and a man supposed to be Franklin was arrested in Republic.

Testimony showed that Officer Brice entered a room in the North End a few hours before the killing and found the men plotting safe-blowing. This was testified to by Milligan. "Big Jim" is held as an accessory after the fact, because of his association with the gang immediately after the killing.

Five hundred dollars have been raised by public subscription to be given to Officer Brice's widow and orphans.

EXTRA SESSION TALKED.

Replies to the talk of an extra session are being taken seriously. The conference coming at this time is regarded as significant. An announcement on the subject is expected to follow the conference.

It is thought that the extra session will be linked with the extra-session discussion.

It is understood that the President's position is definite. He is expected to regard the matter as the most important before the country for settlement to-day. Congress leaders have declared that it is impossible to deal with the problem at this session.

It is officially dead to this Congress. It will figure in committee session and some bills may even get on the floor. But all legislation from here on out that no one expects the President to correctly understand this matter will figure in a special session.

Those who are to take part in the conference are to be appointed by the Senate and the House.

MISS VERA LEATHERBIRD.

Miss Vera Leatherbird of No. 25 North Jefferson street, Madison, Ind., has written the police to search for Doris Anderson, her half-sister, who disappeared in this city last October. She writes that her mother is very ill from gout, at the home of the defendant, and silence of her daughter, and fears are entertained that unless the missing girl is found at once the mother will not survive. The description of the missing girl is that she is 22 years old, 4 feet 1 inch in height, black hair, blue eyes and weighs 106 pounds.

This is announced as a definite policy, so that in future special work to benefit special areas the States will be asked to come forward and bear a percentage of the expense.
